Late registration: 20 € for first start

Judges: One judge obligatory for clubs with 3 to 6 participants. For clubs with 7 or more participants 2 judges are needed. The judges are paid 10 to 50 € a day depending of the numbers of bouts. A fine of 150 € has to be paid for non-registration of judges.

Mode: In all weapons men and women fence together. Men and women are judged separately. There is a pre round and a medium round with 4, 5 or 6 fencers each. The total index of the two rounds decides the division in marathon pools with 16 fencers each. The last pool may consist of fewer fencers. 4 fencers form a group in which they fight against each other first and then against the other groups of the same marathon pool. In case of equality of victories of the first places in the first marathon-pool a play off decides the winner of the tournament. The organizers may change the mode for example only one index in one round with 6 to 7 fencers per pool in case of a high number of participants. Or if the number of participants is not higher than 20 there could be only one marathon pool with 20 fencers. For reason of organization there may even be separate men and women competitions.

Equipment: According to the rules of FIE.

Liability: The fencers take part at their own risk.
